"Success" is hard to define. Walter Winchell once said, "Success is the reward of anyone who looks for trouble." Another writer calls it "fool's gold." Walter Pater says that success in life means burning always with a "hard gemlike flame."

These varying opinions result from disagreement about the meaning of success.

To me, success means attaining a desirable end. Such an end must be worth one's sustained effort. Mastery of one's future is certainly worthy of life-long effort. Honing one's physical and intellectual skills to knife-edge sharpness, weaving a network of solid friendships, and, most of all staying true to one's best self are all basic to one's success in life.

The Adelphi experience can be your dynamo in that process. May it be so for each one of you.

Mr. Russell Bonanno

As a senior class departs a school, they take with them many cherished memories. Among these memories are friends that they have made and certain values that they have learned. The feeling, that this senior class has for one individual in particular, plays an important part in the many memories we will take with us as we leave Adelphi.

This person has been a true inspiration for all of us. He has always been present to teach and guide us as a true friend. He has inspired us to learn and perform at the best of our abilities at all times. This man has shown us his concern and interest inside the classroom, as well as, on the stage and out on the field. A close relationship between a student and teacher was firmly established with this man.

As we leave Adelphi, we take with us many memories. The memory of this man and the values that he has taught us will remain with us forever. Because he has shown a great concern for all of us and taught us to aim for the success that we hope to achieve in our future, we, the Senior Class of 1980, dedicate this year's Adelphic to Mr. Russell E. Bonanno.

"He to whom God has given knowledge
And the eloquence to speak well
Ought not to remain silent nor conceal what he knows,
But should willingly make it known
to others."
Marie de France, Prologue — Lois
Margaret Wander Bonanno — A Certain Slant of Light

"When do we know — really know — we're successful? When other people pat us on the back? When we can afford that vacation? When the boss remembers our name? Perhaps all of these tell us that we've made it. Perhaps none. Just like success itself, the proof of it is as individual as we are."

"If the day and the night are such that you greet them with joy, And life emits a fragrance — Like flowers and sweet-scented herbs, is more elastic, more starry, more immortal — that is your success."

Henry David Thoreau

The Who

Don't compromise the ideals that you hold,
For on history's pages are written the deeds
Of those who had courage to live by their creeds,
Who held to their dreams and at last achieved
The lofty goals in which they believed.
So be true to yourself in all that you do.
Reach for the stars and your dreams will come true."

Adelphi, I can't believe it's all over. These have been the greatest four years of my life. Well, Ellen, Anne, Lisa, we won't be taking that good ol' B-37 any more. Drama was great. Mario remember, "It's Mr. Garland", "NNNora", "CCCelia"? Yvonne and Danny, you're the new President and Speaker of the House of the A.A.A. now that Chris and I are gone. Chris, those were some times in Spanish III. Lori, Fabe, Chris, remember when we got thrown out because of Mrs. A? That reminds me Anne, who's going to take care of the Mrs. A Club? Hal, Kathy, Chris, I'm surprised we survived Driver's Ed. Pete, remember when we first met in the 9th Grade? We didn't think we'd make it but we did. Barbara, I'll probably be seeing you around, if you know what I mean. Albert, if there's ever a play called "Nela," you have to play the leading role. Hey George, what's the occasion? $R^2$, you're going to be a great philosopher one day. Vin, Sarah, you've been good friends. John, stop saying cos for cosine. Teachers and friends, you've all been the greatest. Mom and Dad, thanks for everything. Adelphi, I'll miss you but we've all got to move on. One more thing Adelphi. Thanks.

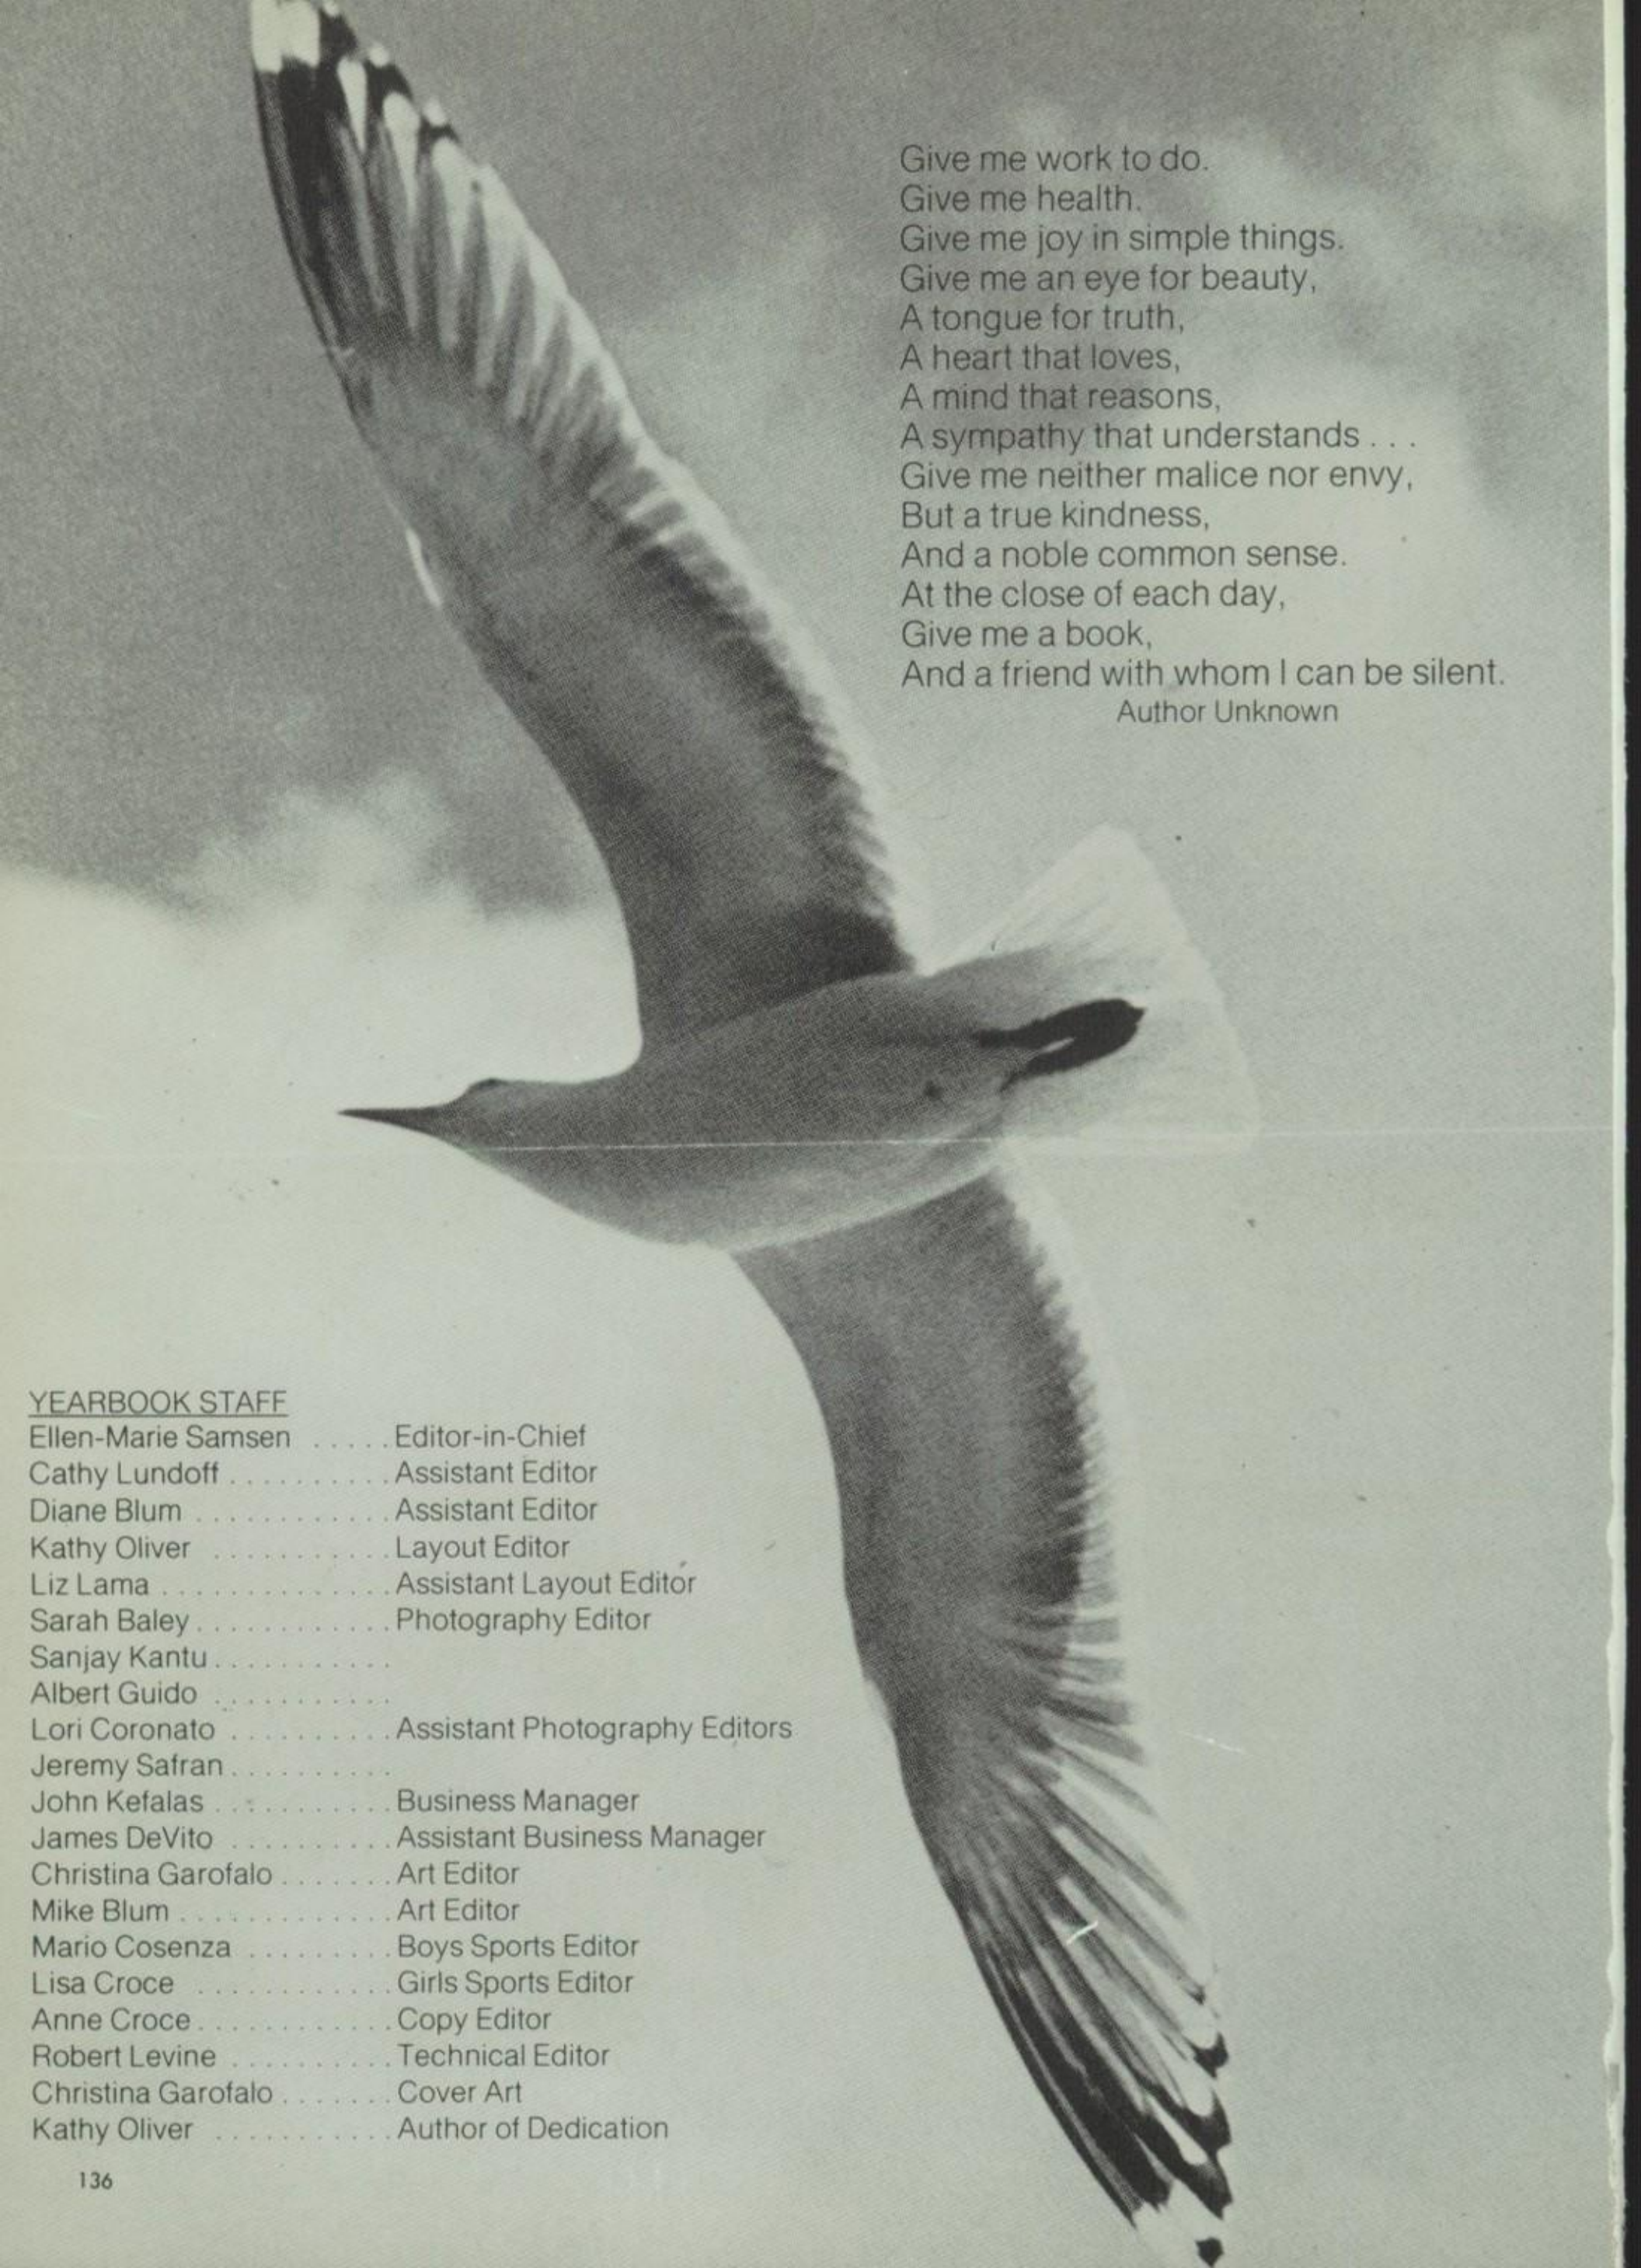
Peace, Love and Happiness

to the Graduates

The Robestelli Family



Give me work to do.
Give me health.
Give me joy in simple things.
Give me an eye for beauty,
A tongue for truth,
A heart that loves,
A mind that reasons,
A sympathy that understands . . .
Give me neither malice nor envy,
But a true kindness,
And a noble common sense.
At the close of each day,
Give me a book,
And a friend with whom I can be silent.
